INSURGENTS PLEAD

For Recognition by Europe as Belligerents.

SENOR TROMBULL IS IN WASHINGTON

And Wants the Arms on the Itata Held in Chile Until Their Legal Status Is Settled.

LONDON, June 11.—A lengthy circular note addressed to the European powers by the Chilean Provisional Government, representing the insurgent party of Chile, is published in England and on the continent today. In the note the powers are appealed to by the insurgents to be recognized as belligerents.

TRUMBULL ON BALMACEDA.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Senor Ricardo Trumbull had a long interview with the Secretary of the Treasury, the subject of which cannot be learned definitely, but there is reason to believe that he made a strong plea for the insurgent cause and sought to have the arms still on the Itata remain in the custody of Admiral McCann until the judicial determination of their ownership may be reached. To a representative of the Associated Press Trumbull said the condition of affairs in Chile was one of absolute despotism. He (Trumbull) had no hope of relief, as the result of the Presidential election, which takes place in Chile this month. Balmaceda's adherents, he said, comprised all the office-holders and hangers-on, but the people, as a whole were opposed to him. Nevertheless in the present state of affairs Balmaceda will find it an easy matter to dictate his successor.

DESERTING THE INSURGENTS.

The Chilean Legation today received a telegram from Chile saying that the naval vessels of the Government pursued the insurgents in Tarapaca. The Condell, Lynch and Imperial have bombarded Pisagua and Iquique without managing to bring out the insurgents' ships, which are in very bad condition. All the veteran sailors have deserted and offered their services to the constitutional Government.

And Demand a Large Variety of Other Reforms — The Immigration and Currency Questions.

CLEVELAND, O., June 11.—The Prohibition State Convention was called to order this morning. Temporary Chairman Macklin was made permanent Chairman. The platform denounces the liquor traffic in the usual terms, demands revision of the immigration and naturalization laws, declares for woman suffrage, denounces speculation in margins, recommends pensions to soldiers and sailors, their widows and orphans, graded according to the time of service, recognizes gold, silver and currency as the proper circulating medium issued in sufficient quantity to meet the demands of trade, demands the reclamation of the unearned land grants and that no more of the national domain be granted, declares that the tariff should be assessed on goods from such countries as tax American products, and that the expenses of the Government should be paid by an income tax.

A CALL FOR BISMARCK.

Herr Reckert Makes a Startling Speech in the Prussian Diet.

Caprivi's Halting Policy in Relation to Grain Duties — The Man for the Hour.

BERLIN, June 11.—In the lower House of the Diet today Herr Rickert made a motion to the effect that the Government should submit to the House the material upon which Chancellor Von Caprivi based his recent speech upon the grain duties. The Chancellor opposed this motion, declaring that inquiries had been in progress since April, but he added they were confined to official quarters in order to avoid creating excitement. The Government, he continued, were convinced that there was no distress existing from the duties now levied on grain, but in consequence of the agitation which had been aroused in regard to this matter, the Government had since consulted a number of private parties and naturally could not submit these reports to the House, and he (the Chancellor) was not in a position to mention the names of the persons who had been consulted. Herr Rickert made a most sensational speech, during which he said it would be found "necessary to recall the man who alone was able to direct the Government."

SHORT SUPPLY OF GRAIN.

Herr Rickert charged the Government with endeavoring to "silence those who were defending the interests of the millions against the minority." The same speaker also said he discredited the Government report about grain. The available stocks, he said, were small, and prices would advance. Potatoes, he continued, had already replaced bread as the food of the people and they (the potatoes) were also placed at exorbitant prices. His party would not rest until the duties on grain were abolished.

Baron Erffa Wernberg insisted that the agriculturalists could not dispense with the duties. He denied that distress existed at all and called upon the Freisennige party to "Cease its demagogical proceedings."

A GREAT OIL FIRE.

Further Particulars of the Warehouse Fire at Honolulu.

The Water Obtainable to Quench the Flames—The Town Saved by the Absence of Wind.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—The steamship Mariposa, from Australia via Honolulu, arrived today. The steamer brings fuller accounts of the Government warehouse fire at Honolulu. Workmen had been soldering leaking kerosene tins at a shed a short distance from the warehouse, which was used solely for the storage of oils, and an employe in moving the soldering furnace used a handful of waste taken from the floor of the shed which happened to be saturated with oil. The fire ignited the shed and spread to the warehouse, which was soon a raging mass of flames. The firemen were unable to get water from the plugs and the explosion of a number of drums of gasoline, of which there were several hundred in the warehouse drove them to a distance. The fact that the warehouse was constructed of brick and iron with but little woodwork and that there was scarcely any wind saved that portion of the town from destruction. The greater part of the oil, of which there were thirty-five thousand cases of the total value at Honolulu retail prices of $300,000 was owned by the Standard Oil Company. The rest was divided among several holders. There was also about 2000 gallons of gasoline in the warehouse, part of which was saved. The insurance was small.

UNPRECEDENTED RISE OF RED RIVER.

A Father, Mother and Infant Drowned Other Fatal Casualties—Property Destroyed.

GAINSVILLE, Tex., June 11.—Near Leon, I. T., thirty miles from here on the Red river, the dead bodies of a man, woman and a little babe were found, having been drowned during the late overflow. William Lynn, a farmer, residing thirty miles north of here on Hickory creek, was drowned in that stream yesterday while trying to ford it.

SWEPT AWAY.

The rise in the Red river is unprecedented. At Werrers and Sivils Bends, twenty miles northwest of here, the destruction is widespread. In these two bends there were 10,000 acres of corn, cotton and small grain cultivated by about fifty families. All these crops were destroyed and most of the houses swept away and a large number of cattle, hogs and chickens drowned. At Yellow Banks Ferry Mr. Burdene was drowned while trying to reach the shore in an old ferry boat.

THE BACCARAT BUSINESS,

The Religious Press Are Now Taking a Hack at the Prince.

They Tell Him That the Foundation of the Monarchy Has Been Shaken by His Conduct.

LONDON, June 11.—The outspoken newspaper comments upon the part of the Prince of Wales played in the baccarat scandal continue to be the sensation of the day in England and elsewhere. A newspaper reporter who was near the Prince of Wales at Ascot today at the races telegraphed that the Prince was in a very sulky frame of mind caused it would appear by the storm of adverse newspaper criticism which has swept and is still sweeping over the heir apparent from the religious press as might be expected. A religious weekly paper, representing all the Protestant denominations says for instance: "The throne rests upon the foundation of public opinion only. A few more scandals like that of Tranby Croft would destroy the foundation, and Edward the Eighth would never be crowned." A British weekly remarks the revelations "are enough to sober up the strongest supporters of monarchy."

The Vienna correspondent of the Times says the bacarrat scandal has caused a sensation in army circles on the continent, especially in countries where the Prince of Wales is honorary colonel of special regiments.

The Globe this morning says both the army and navy feel most keenly the stigma which is placed upon an honorable profession by the agreement entered into by a field marshal and a general to maintain secrecy in regard to gambling, and by "gambling with youngsters, ons of them a subaltern."

CARDIFF, June 11.—At a conference today of the Glamoraganshire Congregational churches, the conduct of the Prince of Wales in the baccarat scandal was denounced.

BRAVE NELLY CANTY.

She Would Like to Be Proud of Her Brother But Cannot.

Police Officer McCloud, for whom an attachment was issued yesterday, proved to be as pure when he went to the judicial fire as when he came out, for it was discovered that he had not been subpœnaed for the Canty case after all, and he was therefore not required to be present yesterday.

The Canty affair this morning was an interesting one. Miss Nelly Canty, the young girl who about a year ago made such a spirited appeal in the Police Court for her brother, saying that if he had a chance he would do right, was now, by force of circumstances, the chief witness against him. She testified that for months past he has been hanging around the house living on the earnings of herself and mother and coming home drunk and abusing them. Canty tried in a cross examination to browbeat her, but the same courage that she exhibited a year ago she displayed again this morning and her answers were clear and clever. She denied all the imputations he cast at her and when he remarked "You wouldn't say anything good of me if you could," she replied: "Yes, I would be proud to, but it is impossible."

Other witnesses followed and corroborated the evidence against the defendant, who made an appeal to the court, saying that if permitted to go he would leave town at once.

In summing up the case Judge Ogden said that there was not enough evidence of vagrancy to make a conviction. He promised Canty, though, that if ever he should be convicted for the charge, he would get the full sentence of the law. Before Canty went Judge Ogden also scored him severely, telling him that he is an idle and vicious person and that instead of spending his money for beer he should try to help his poor mother.

WILL FRUIT VALE COME IN?

A Petition for Annexation to Oakland Now in Circulation.

The Live Residents of the Territory Wish to Share in the Progress and Improvement of the City.

For years Fruit Vale has held aloof from Oakland. Every proposition looking toward annexation to the city was met by an angry protest. The fact that the irregularities in the eastern boundary of the city were nonsensical and evidently the result of rascality in early days did not move the residents of the delightful suburb. They acknowledged the fact that all the geographical conditions favored the extension of the city's boundaries so as to embrace a great deal of the property to the eastward, but they declined to see any benefit to be derived from the annexation, and insisted that such a move would only result in an increase of their taxes.

But the progress in the way of improvement which the city has recently made, and the evidences given of an intention still further to improve have set them to thinking. They have particularly noticed the growth and prosperity of the city near Twenty-third avenue, which portion immediately adjoins their property.

So, many of the wide-awake residents of Fruit Vale, desiring to share in the advantages to be derived from annexation to such a live and go-ahead city, are moving in that direction. They have gone further than mere talk, and a petition is now in circulation asking the City Council to call an election so that the residents of the outside district may vote upon the proposition to come into the city. This petition has already received the signatures of some of the most prominent citizens and largest property-owners of the Fruit Vale district, and those who are pushing the matter are energetically in earnest.

GOOD FOR THE INDIANS.

A New Agreement Concerning Grazing Privileges.

How the Crow Indians Are to Get Rich By Surrendering 1,800,000 Acres to the Government.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The Interior Department, acting upon the recommendation of the Indian office, has adopted a new departure in the management of grazing matters upon the Crow Indian reservation in Montana. The Crow Indians are authorized by the act of Congress of April 11, 1882, to permit cattle grazing upon their reservation, but under previous arrangements there has been much friction between cattlemen resulting from the indiscriminate pasturage, the portions of the reservation set apart for grazing proving a fruitful source of trouble and annoyance, not only to the Agency management, but to the Department Indian Officers. To obviate these difficulties in future, and to give the Indians the benefit of advantages resulting from competition between the cattlemen for these grazing privileges, the total of the unoccupied portion of the reservation has been divided into five grazing districts and proposals for grazing the same are invited by advertisement. The proposals received were opened at the Crow agency, and permit agreements covering each of the said districts were executed by Agent Wyman with the highest bidder for each, said permits to be in force for a period of three years from July 1st proximo. These agreements are now before the department for approval. It is believed the new arrangement will relieve the department of much annoyance and trouble, and be decidedly better for the Indians and better for the cattlemen. It brings the management of the whole business under the direct control of the department, and by the terms of the agreement executed with the cattlemen, the cattle may be removed from the reservation at any time by the department for any violation of the stipulations in the same. The improved holdings and herds of the Indians are to be at all times kept secure from interference by the stock and employes of the cattlemen, and the grazing range occupied by cattle belonging to the Indians are to be kept undisturbed. The pecuniary advantage to the Indians is also considerable, as they receive about $600 more under this new arrangement than under the old system, notwithstanding the fact that the title to an area of about 1,800,000 acres upon the western portion of the reservation is relinquished to the Government.

QUAKING HUSBANDS.

Young Married Men Who Took Girls to Piedmont.

DON'T WANT TO TELL ON THEMSELVES,

Fearing That They Will Be Called to Testify How They Performed at the Hillside Hotel.

The contest between J. B. Marvin and F. D. Black as to which one shall direct the business of conducting the Piedmont Springs Hotel and for an accounting to Marvin from Black is waxing warm before Judge Ellsworth. The suit, however, has narrowed down to the point whether Marvin has an interest in the five-year lease of the hotel which stands in Black's name. Marvin has introduced all his direct testimony, and today Black entered upon his defense.

Mrs. Lou Franke, who was chambermaid at the hotel for a long time, was called as a witness today and gave some interesting testimony. She asserted that it was true that men and women had come to the hotel and taken rooms for a day, and added that the rooms had been assigned to them by Marvin, who was then at the hotel. She declared that so far as she knew Black had conducted the hotel in such a manner as to commend it to the good people of Oakland. Regarding Mrs. Black, she had found her to be a lady in every respect, and was anxious that the hotel should be conducted on a high plane.

The two married young men who visited the hotel with two single ladies and hired rooms were shaking in their boots today in fear of being called as witnesses. They protested that if they were compelled to testify they would have to admit their guilt and say that Marvin gave them the rooms. They are employed on the Oakland and Berkeley electric road. They begged to be excused by Black's attorneys, stating that if they were compelled to tell on themselves it would result in the breaking up of two happy homes. They have not yet been called as witnesses, and unless Black is charged with giving them the rooms they will probably escape detection by their wives. They will be the two happiest men in town when the case is ended.

THE EX-PRIEST DEPARTS.

Dr. Sa-yon-na Was Not Afraid of His Testimony in the Divorce Case.

P. M. Clerc left last evening for the East, and Dr. Sa-yon-na Clerc, who has just secured a divorce from the former priest, is freed from the annoyance of her husband. The ex-priest did not defend the divorce suit because he received a sum of money from his wife, as stated in THE TRIBUNE, but his wife did not pay him because she was afraid of his defense. She feels certain that she had ample testimony to secure a divorce had the case been contested, and would have given him the money even had he made a defense. Dr. Sa-yon-na merely paid her former husband's tailor bill, $50, and gave him $200 in coin. During their married life Clerc gave his wife some $280, and the amount she paid him was equal to the sum he gave her during the time they lived together, less the amount paid for his clothing, not considering at all the cost of his board and lodging. Clerc received an allowance of $20 from some friends or some society in France. At the time of the marriage he gave Dr. Sa-yon-na $50 for expenses of the wedding.

COUPLES WHO CAN'T AGREE.

Two Wives Who Assert That They Have Been Deserted.

Maria L. Maurer has brought a suit for a divorce from Fred. J. Maurer on the grounds of willful neglect and failure to provide. The couple reside in this city. Maurer positively refuses to provide for his wife and allows her to accept the assistance of friends. No alimony is asked for by the wife, but she wants the custody of the three minor children.

Mrs. F. M. Patterson has applied for a divorce from W. S. Patterson on the ground of desertion. She asks for $100 a month alimony and the custody of the minor child. The couple were married nine years ago in the East, when the wife was principal in a public school in one of the towns in Minnesota. Some time ago they located on a farm near Pleasanton. Patterson became weary of the plodding life of a farmer and one day, without word or warning, he skipped out. After an absence of a year Mrs. Patterson discovered that he is in Seattle conducting a prosperous business. She wants him to share his property with her. P. F. Benson is her attorney.

GOMEZ IS GUILTY.

He May Be Sent to the Penitentiary for Life.

It will be many a day, and perhaps all his days, before Thomas Gomez can again enjoy the privileges of a free man, because he was today convicted of highway robbery. It was he who so cruelly assaulted Mr. Ackerman at Pleasanton and robbed him of $287. It was in testimony that after he had beaten his victim he jumped upon his prostrate form, saying: "There might be some life left in the ——— ——," Gomez was a saloonkeeper at Pleasanton. He pleaded guilty in court to a prior conviction, having once served a term in San Quentin for grand larceny. The court may impose a sentence of not less than one year. The maximum sentence is left to the discretion of the court. The general impression among the officials of the court is that Gomez will receive a sentence in years which will be equal to life imprisonment. Judge Greene, who tried the case very fairly, in view of its importance to the defendant, will pronounce sentence next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

THE WIDOW'S MONEY.

Mrs. Irwin Settles Her Suit With the Southern Pacific Company.

Mrs. Irwin, the widow of James Irwin, who was killed in the disaster at the Webster-street bridge last year, has settled her suit with the Southern Pacific Company. A jury in this county awarded her $6000 damages. Her attorney, ex-Judge Sullivan, stated yesterday that the money had been paid to the widow. He was in favor of appealing the case to the Supreme Court, but as his client was poor and needed the money, at her request he consented to the settlement.

In the Probate Court.

Hyacinth G. Marinstany has petitioned the Superior Court to be appointed guardian of the person and estate of her sister, Asuncion G. Marinstany, whom, she asserts, is an incompetent and has property in this county worth $13,000.

Now for a Trial.

Judge Ellsworth has overruled the demurrer in the suit of J. B. Lahkune against Charles Wolpert, and has given the defendant ten days to answer. Mrs. Lahkune seeks to recover damages, asserting that the defendant took possession of her furniture in the Albany Hotel.

Remembered His Friend.

The will of Louis J. Garon, deceased, has been presented for probate. The value of his estate is unknown. The property is bequeathed to Henry A. M. de Chesne, a friend of the testator, who is named in the will as executor to act without bonds.

The New Speeding Track.

Supervisor D. C. Brown said today that the subscriptions to the stock of the Gentlemen's Driving Association had so far progressed that he felt certain that the purchase of the Crocker tract at Fruit Vale and the equipment of a first class speeding course would be consummated. It is not the intention to build a kite-shaped track as the configuration of the property is not fitted for it.

The Water Now Out of the Lake.

The Piedmont Cable Company has a large force of men laying pipe to connect with the new bath house and the work will be finished tomorrow night. On Friday and Saturday the floodgates of the Twelfth street dam will be closed and the water replaced.

Another Lane.

Dr. C. S. Lane, the dentist of Fourteenth and Broadway, wants it distinctly understood that he is not the "Dr. Lane" spoken of in the newspapers in connection with the Warner-Chambers scandal on Oak avenue.

At a New Educational Center.

He Wanted Them for Tamales.

Thomas Gomez, the man convicted yesterday of stealing chickens from Fourth and Webster streets, was given thirty days by Judge Ogden this morning.

It is a general denial of all allegations of fact made by Governor Bulkeley, appertaining to election returns, and denies the right of the General Assembly to go behind the returns.

DRINK AND DESPONDENCY.

Suicide of Fred Hansen at West Berkeley This Morning.

He Fires Two Shots Into His Head and Dies Instantly — He Previously Threatened to Kill His Wife.

Up till a week ago Fred Hansen was a watchman in the Giant Powder Works on Fleming's Point. Then he was discharged for drunkenness and put in his time about the restaurant kept by his wife at the corner of San Pablo and University avenues in West Berkeley. He washed dishes, waited on the tables and made himself generally useful. But he grew moody and morose and was more or less under the influence of liquor all the time.

Yesterday Mrs. Hansen went to San Francisco. When she returned in the afternoon her husband was drunk and very quarrelsome. During the height of a family difference he pulled a pistol and threatened to shoot her. George Carlenbach, a brewer at the Hoffberg brewery, jumped between the angry husband and his frightened wife and took the pistol away from the former.

This morning Hansen seemed sober and clothed in his right mind, so Carlenbach gave him back his revolver. He washed the dishes and helped his wife clean up about the place. Then he went into his room near the kitchen, but soon returned and called his little girl to him. To her he said:

"That boy you call your brother is not your brother. He is not my son."

This referred to a boy now some ten or twelve years of age who had been adopted by the Hansens.

After imparting this information to his daughter he kissed her fondly and returned to his room. The child followed him there and saw him take his pistol from a drawer. Remembering the quarrel of last evening, the little girl ran to her mother in the kitchen crying out:

"Oh, mamma! mamma! He's going to shoot you!"

"Oh, no! papa wouldn't do a thing like that," replied Mrs. Hansen assuringly.

Just then she heard the crack of a pistol and ran to her husband's room. The door was locked, and as she tried to open it she heard another shot. Carlenbach was summoned from the brewery across the way and entered Hansen's room by way of the window. Hansen was found in a corner doubled up, with his hands under his body. He clutched a revolver of the American bulldog pattern of 38 caliber and self-cocking. He was dead. He had fired one shot into his mouth and another into his right temple.

Mrs. Hansen flung herself upon her husband's body as soon as Carlenbach admitted her to the room and could not be persuaded to leave it until the Coroner's assistant came and forced her away. The body was removed to the Morgue in this city, where an inquest will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Hansen was 42 years of age and up to the time of his discharge from his position in the powder works his domestic life was happy. Since then his drunkenness and morose temper provoked frequent quarrels with his wife, but he was never heard to threaten suicide. He was a member of the North German Verein of San Francisco and that society will have charge of his funeral.

BEATING A WOMAN.

Cowardly Miners at Gold Run, Placer County.

CLAIM JUMPERS ATTACK AN OWNER.

Mrs. Wolcott of West Oakland Refused Food and Shelter Because of Threats by Brutes.

Mrs. Victoria Wolcott, a widow, who resides at 864 Campbell street, returned from Gold Run this morning, where she had been to look after her mining property. She was brutally assaulted by a crowd of ruffians and forced to leave the mining camp or take the chances of being murdered. Mrs. Wolcott came in on the Sacramento train, and went to the home of her sister, Mrs. Hawley, the wife of C. H. Hawley, who is in the employ of the Southern Pacific Company, and resides at 1660 Seward street, West Oakland. Mrs. Wolcott is a middle-aged lady of pleasant address, and when seen by a TRIBUNE reporter today she related the story of her exciting experience with the ruffians, who are endeavoring to rob her of her mine. She is still suffering from the effects of the assault, and was compelled to take to her bed.

Some twenty years ago she lived at Gold Run with her husband, who was engaged in the business of mining. He located what is known as the Benton & Prindle mine, near Gold Run, which proved for a time to be a fine paying claim. When he died he bequeathed his estate to his widow. The estate at that time consisted of a one-half interest in the mine. Subsequently she purchased for $600 another one quarter interest in the claim from one of her husband's partners, which gave her a three-quarters interest in it. When the debris law was passed the work on the claim was stopped, and Mrs. Wolcott and her son, who is now 20 years of age, came to Oakland to live. Since that time the lady has struggled along as best she could, and has kept the assessments on the property paid. A short time ago she learned that some men had jumped the claim and were working it in violation of the law and making lots of money. She was willing that they should work the mine providing that they would give her a share of the dividends, and determined to visit the place to demand her rights. She made her intentions known to her son, but he declined to go to Gold Run, asserting that their visit would result in a fight and a great deal of trouble. So instead he went to Arizona, where his business called him.

Mrs. Wolcott packed her grip and started for Gold Run last Monday, taking with her the deeds to the property, showing absolutely that she owns a controlling interest in the claim.

"When I arrived at Gold Run," said the lady, "I met a lady friend who took me to her home. That afternoon I called upon Mr. Gould of the Gold Run Company and explained to him the situation. He told me that I had better see the men who had jumped the claim and are working it and perhaps I could come to an understanding with them. I informed him that they might all use me, but he laughed at the idea and said that the miners would not molest a woman. So I walked about a mile and came to my claim and found six or eight men at work. One of them accosted me and asked me what I wanted and I informed him that I was looking after my claim. He told me to get out as fast as I could, but I replied that I had a right to remain on my own property and would go away in a short time. The men surrounded me and when I refused to go two of them caught me by the arms and two pushed me from behind. I protested and pleaded with them in the name of their mothers not to use me in such a brutal manner. 'Damn her, we'll drive her out of here,' said one of the men, and they hustled me and pushed me while I struggled to get free. I soon appealed to them to allow me to go away of my own free will, but they refused to let me go. Finally I became completely exhausted and fell down. Two of the men caught me by the arms, and the two who were pushing me caught me by the legs and they carried me for at least a half a mile over bridges, through ravines and over hills. One of them said: 'We'll throw her on the railroad track and that will settle her.' Finally they came near the railroad and they threw me heavily upon the ground and I became unconscious. How long I remained in this condition I cannot tell, but when I came to I found it was near evening and so I made my way to Gold Run. I went to the home of my lady friend who had given me a room the night before, but she refused to receive me, stating that miners had called at the house and threatened her if she gave me shelter. I then went to the hotel and asked for shelter, but the proprietor refused me both bed and board, giving as his reason that he had been threatened by the miners if he sheltered me. He said that he had heard that I was to be tarred and feathered if I didn't leave the town. I told him that I had money and could pay my way, but he would not listen to me, and I was forced to go into the street.

"I applied at a private residence for assistance, but the people said that they had been warned not to receive me and I was turned away. It was night and I was sick, sore and hungry, and having no place to go I lay down on the bank of a mine and there I spent the night. The next day I renewed my efforts to recover my property, but it was no use, as the men had threatened people not so have anything to do with me. My lady friend secretly sent me some bread and butter, for I was nearly starved and could not buy anything because the people would not sell to me. The second night I was again compelled to sleep on the bank of the mine and contracted a severe cold.

"The next day I went to Auburn and laid my case before the District Attorney, but he would give me no satisfaction. I wanted George Betlen and George Mullon, two men who had assaulted me, arrested, but he declined to prosecute them, saying that they could never be convicted in that district. In despair I returned to Sacramento and tried to see the Governor, but could not do so, and so this morning I was forced to return home. I propose to lay my case before Attorney-General Hart, and see if I cannot get some satisfaction about my property."

Mrs. Wolcott stated that she had passed through a terrible ordeal, and her head and body now bear the marks of the brutal treatment she received.

TO SELL A BIG RANCH.

The Purpose of the Lease of a Little Railroad.

THE CALIFORNIA AND NEVADA NOT SOLD.

Captain Smith's Ferry Route, on Paper, Was Sold, However, to the Owner of the Moraga Rancho.

The presence of General Williamson on this coast has been said to mean that the California and Nevada Railroad would be immediately pushed to Walnut Creek, and that it would be put in operation to that point.

This may and may not be true, but there are a few facts about the mysterious sale of this little road that have never been told.

It has been popularly supposed that the California and Nevada Railroad was sold some time ago, and that the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad had purchased it. It was so given out by the ones who took charge of the little road, and once more the future of the little narrow gauge seemed bright.

It might be well to say that the California and Nevada Railroad has not been sold, and that it is still owned by the little local company that formed it, and that the only transfer that took place when the sale was said to have been consummated was the sale of the Pacific Improvement and Construction Company. This was a little side show company formed by Captain J. W. Smith, when he hoped to get the people of Oakland interested enough to to help him build his ferry. Captain Smith owned all of the company, though it had an alleged Board of Directors. It owned no property, and the sale was a very simple affair. Captain Smith turned it over for the simple cost of the incorporation and the engraving of the stock certificates.

The purchasers are J. A. Williamson, A. A. Grant, D. C. Tripp and C. C. Tripp, the owners of the Moraga Rancho.

J. A. Williamson was at one time purchasing agent, and later president of the Atlantic & Pacific, but when President Strong of the Atchison retired General Williamson did also. A. A. Grant has made a great deal of money contracting, and most of his work has been done for the Atchison. C. C. Tripp is a San Francisco real estate agent, and D. C. Tripp, his brother, is a lawyer. These were the owners of the Moraga Rancho. They purchased the land on a private speculation, and have been trying for a long while to get the land on the market. They have frequently tried to have Captain Smith build the California & Nevada through their ranch, but they could never come to any agrement, and there was but one way out of the difficulty, and that was the purchase of the road.

They then secured Captain Smith's little company and elected a new Board of Directors. A. A. Grant was elected president, D. C. Tripp vice-president, C. C. Tripp secretary and J. A. Williamson treasurer.

The new company then hired the California & Nevada Railroad on exactly the same terms that Captain Smith had. The bonds and stock of the company were placed in escrow in the Nevada Bank, subject to the control of the Pacific Improvement and Construction Company, and they were to supply the money and build the road for the bonds and half of the stock. In other words, the new company simply assumed the Captain's contract.

Captain Smith has not disposed of his bonds that he obtained for building the road from San Pablo to Orinda Park, and he still retains an interest in the road and its earnings. Besides the bonds held by Captain Smith there are very few outstanding, and the only way in which the new company can obtain an interest in the road is to complete it to Walnut Creek.

When they took the road they announced that their intention was to change the gauge to standard gauge, and that they would build the road to Walnut Creek, and would construct a ferry line from Emeryville to San Francisco. They knew that each of these acts was necessary before the road could be worth anything at all. The Southern Pacific Company has never been over-anxious to assist the little road by making close connections, and since they have begun the operation of the road the lack of ferry facilities has been felt very seriously by the company.

"Our greatest necessity," said Superintendent Reel, "is a ferry. Though our road is something over twenty miles long, its terminus is only four miles from Berkeley in an air line and only about eight miles by the road. The terminus is still nearly ten miles from Walnut Creek, and when a man puts a load of freight on a wagon and hauls it to the end of the road, and then when it reaches this end has to unload it and haul it into Oakland and over to San Francisco it hardly pays to ship it at all. Every effort is being made by the company to carry out their original plans, and it is hoped be ore very long that it will be able to make arrangements that will enable them so to do."

General Williamson and A. A. Grant went over the road on Sunday last, and rode down to the ranch. Their plan is to change the route of the road and they wanted to take another look over the ground. The present line of the road is a very good one, with easy grades and no heavy curves, but it involves the building of a 700 foot tunnel. Unfortunately the present line of the road hardly touches the Moraga Rancho, and the new company will change the line so that it will run through the land that is owned by the members of the company for eight miles. This will necessitate changing the line of the road and making harder grades, but when this is done the object of the purchase of the road will have been accomplished, and the Moraga Rancho will be put on the market.

This is the status of, and these are the plans of the California & Nevada Railroad and its lessees. Of course the Atchison road can obtain the California & Nevada when it wants it, and perhaps the lessees had this little speculation in view when they obtained control of the road, but the prime object was to put their land tract on the market.

General Williamson and his confreres in the scheme are now trying to make some arrangement for raising the money necessary to carry out their projects. How near they have succeeded is a question, but those who are interested in the land grant say, mysteriously:

"You wait and you will see something drop."

It is understood that the gauge of the road is to be changed, and extension is to begin at a not very distant date.

Officer Turney's Landlord.

Officer Turney, who has of late been the subject of so much gossip, just because the hired girl didn't leave when his wife went away to the East, has said that he was not turned out of the house on San Pablo avenue where he had rooms prior to June 1st, but that the proprietor is angry because he left it. The proprietor of the house from which the officer withdrew his patronage says he is not angry at B., and he admits that neither the officer nor Mrs. Minnie McCauley, his hired girl, were ordered to leave the house, but he does say that he, the proprietor, did tell Officer Turney that if he wanted to live with her as his wife he must do so in some other house. So at the expiration of his month (May last) he left the house. And if it is true that to send a gentleman's wife away and to instal her hired girl in her place unfits the gentleman so doing for a position on the Oakland police force; and if it is also true that the Chief of Police and his officers are in good faith looking for evidence on which to base a charge of this sort against Mr. Turney, he has only to put the said proprietor on the witness stand.

The Aquatic Theater.

The aquatic theater at the head of Lake Merritt, with its cafe and Turkish baths, cannot be opened on the 15th inst. as was intended, on account of unavoidable delays in the work of furnishing the interior. The work is being pushed, however, at top speed.

AGAINST POOLROOMS.

The Letter of Five Members of the Republican City Committee.

Reference was made in THE TRIBUNE of last evening to a letter signed by five members of the Republican City Central Committee, addressed to the Republicans in the City Council, asking them to take such action as shall prohibit the maintenance of poolrooms in this city. Following is the letter in full:

OAKLAND, June 9, 1891.

Messrs. Wilkins, Macdonald, Watkinson, Garthorne, Nelson, Heitmann, Johnston and Pardee—GENTLEMEN: The same convention which nominated you as candidates for the City Council of Oakland, appointed us members of the Republican City Central Committee. You were elected to represent the Republican party in the City Council. It is an undisputable fact that a large majority of the Republican party of the City of Oakland are opposed to the existence of pool rooms in the city. By reason of your action in licensing them, a report has gone abroad that the Republican party favors poolrooms in our midst. We, therefore, as members of the Republican City Central Committee of the city of Oakland, desire to express our disapproval of your action in licensing poolrooms, and in the interests of the party, hope and believe that you will take such steps as shall annul the ordinance that your body has already passed, and prohibit poolrooms in our city.

Very respectfully yours,
FRED A. CAMPBELL,
Chairman Republican City Central Com.
JOHN C. GORMAN,
Secretary.
C. M. NICHOLS,
Treasurer.
L. F. SHEPHERD,
Member Fifth Ward.
A. L. MCPHERSON,
Member Third Ward.

T. N. Hansen of the Fourth ward and Miles Doody of the Sixth ward refused to sign the letter.

Another letter had been prepared asking Mayor Chapman to veto the ordinance, but the veto message was transmitted to the Council before the letter was presented by the five committeemen.

WORK ON THE THEATER.

The Tearing Down and Clearing Away Has Already Begun.

Tenants Notified to Leave Within Thirty Days and the Contract for the Excavation Awarded.

Work on Joseph Macdonough's new theater, for which the bonus of $10,000 was subscribed, has practically begun.

Workmen are already tearing down fences and removing the debris. The contract for excavation has been awarded to Maguire & O'Connell, and the dirt removed is to be used to fill in Mr. Macdonough's property at the intersection of Twelfth and Magnolia streets, which property will be sold in subdivisions as soon as it is brought up to grade.

Yesterday the tenants in the buildings at the corner of Fourteenth street and Broadway, where the theater building is to be erected, were notified to leave within thirty days. As soon as they are out the old buildings will be torn down, and by the time excavation is complete the plans for the theater building will have been adopted and the contracts for its construction awarded.

The building is to be a better one than at first intended. Mr. Macdonough is thoroughly in earnest in the matter and will erect a structure of which the city will be proud. He is negotiating for an additional thirty-two feet on his Fourteenth-street frontage, so the theater may be made more commodious and equal in every way to any playhouse on the coast.

The formal signatures and agreements in the matter of the bonus of $10,000 to be paid to Mr. Macdonough in consideration that he build the theater, were completed this afternoon. A. D. Thomson, cashier of the First National Bank, who was designated to receive the money, has in his possession $1700, of which $1000 was paid by the Bookmakers' Association. Payment of the remaining $8300 is assured by the signatures of thoroughly trustworthy and solvent citizens. So much for the bonus. Now for digging the excavation on the lot.

AN OCEAN YACHT CRUISE.

Joseph Macdonough and Guests Will Take a Month's Rest.

Joseph Macdonough, the capitalist, who is shortly to give Oakland a theater worthy of the name, will leave on Sunday morning for a month's cruise along the Southern California coast in his fine new yacht Jessie. He will stop a day or two at Santa Cruz, Monterey, Santa Barbara, San Pedro and San Diego. On the way down the islands of the Santa Barbara channel will be visited, especially fine fishing being expected at Santa Catalina.

The ocean yachting off this coast is apt to be rough until the waters of the Santa Barbara channel are reached, south of Point Conception, but once that "Hatteras of the Pacific" is passed the ocean is smooth and the winds are light and balmy.

The northwest winds are blowing with unusual strength this season, so the Jessie will doubtless make fine time on the run down. She is just off the dry-dock and in good trim for fast sailing. The yacht was new last season, and built by Turner to Mr. Macdonough's order, being especially adapted for ocean cruising. She is a deep draft, keel schooner-yacht, with outside ballast, and much superior to Mr. Macdonough's former yacht, the Aggie, which was a center-board craft, best fitted for bay sailing, and not well suited for ocean work.

Mr. Macdonough has invited as his guests for the cruise, William Cunningham of San Francisco and E. G. Vinzent and Charles G. Yale of Oakland. The party will go aboard on Saturday night, and the yacht will be towed to sea early on Sunday morning.

THE UNIVERSITY.

No Haste in Selecting the Permanent President.

J. West Martin, one of the Regents of the State University, said this afternoon that much of the rumor of the probable action of the Board of Regents in the matter of appointing a president for the University is mere gossip. "We never have discussed the matter," said Mr. Martin, "except for a few moments the other day, and then only informally. Many of these Eastern professors mentioned from time to time have never been considered by the board nor are they likely to be. I cannot say when the board will appoint a president. We have plenty of time and are in no hurry. We have a good president out there now."

Mrs. Marie E. Finney, wife of Charles E. Finney of 124 Haven street died yesterday after a short illness. The deceased was 34 years, 2 months and 24 days of age. The body will be shipped to Benicia today by McAvoy & McCarthy, and will be buried Friday.

Charles Armstrong, doorkeeper of the Union Club, San Francisco, died of consumption on Tuesday night at 1250 Brush street. He was buried today from Undertaker Brown's parlors.

Crossed electric wires set fire to the telegraph pole at the corner of Eighth and Franklin streets last night.

THE REORGANIZED COLONELS.

Manager Robinson Today Signs Another Twirler.

This afternoon Manager Robinson signed Pitcher Sommers, who was released by the San Francisco club yesterday. The three new twirlers are Fitzgerald, who will arrive Saturday, Balsz and Sommers. Garfield and Stevens have secured engagements in the East and will leave Oakland tonight.

The reorganized Colonels play the San Franciscos in Oakland tomorrow afternoon. The Colonel promises a victory for the Oaklands.

Mr. Robinson stated this afternoon that his pay roll now amounts to $1750 a month. He asks the public to give him support as he is losing money every day and is now trying to please the cranks in every respect. He says the reorganized Colonels will now be in the pennant race.

THE CRANK PLEADS.

Warner the Fanatic Promises to Tell His Story Next Monday.

William Warner, who caused Mrs. Chambers to detest her husband and live with him instead, was called in Justice Snook's Court to plead to day. He pleaded not guilty to the charge of vagrancy against him under his true name, so the old complaint under the name of John Doe was destroyed and a new one was filed.

Warner will be tried at 2 o'clock next Monday afternoon, and promises at that time to make a statement of his divine power to the Court.

BAD SEWERAGE.

The Zumos That Caused the Death of Little George Watson.

Another death from diphtheria has occurred, the victim being George W. Watson, a six-year old resident at 1224 Franklin street. The death certificate gives the cause of primary disease as a bad sewerage.

Not Yet at Rest.

On November 27, 1888, Elizabeth H. Stroud died at 562 East Eleventh street, and was buried in the Mountain View Cemetery. Her husband was living at Toledo, Ohio, and has since been figuring on having her remains laid in the graveyard there, a course he finally decided on lately. Last week therefore he telegraphed to this city to have the remains disinterred and shipped to him back East, and the permit to do so was issued yesterday.

The Lumbermen Again.

There was trouble at Reed's lumber yard yesterday between the union and non-union men. They quarelled as usual on labor-lines, and during the discussion, it is charged, Frank Orr, a union man, struck A. Van Zant, a non-union man. Orr was arrested for battery soon afterward, but entered a plea of not guilty yesterday in the Police Court, and his trial was set for June 18th.

ALAMEDA.

Considering the Provisions of the New Liquor License Ordinance.

City Trustees Mastick, Stephenson and Forderer met last evening and discussed the proposed amendments to the liquor license ordinance. The City Attorney was also present, and the primary object of the meeting was to give him points to incorporate in the ordinance, which he is now drafting, and which will come up for consideration at the meeting of the City Trustees next Monday evening.

Mr. Mastick expressed himself in favor of limiting the number of saloons to twenty-five. He was also in favor of reducing the amount of the license from $500 to $300 per annum. Mr. Stephenson is also in favor of making this reduction, but it cannot be made unless Mr. Neal votes for it.

Mr. Neal introduced the ordinance raising the license from $200 to $500, and it is very doubtful if he would consent to any reduction whatever.

A long discussion took place as to how many signatures should be required to an application for a saloon license. The petition of the temperance people asks that a "majority of signatures," but it does not say a majority of what—whether of the whole city, of the neighborhood, block, or of voters or heads of families.

Mr. Mastick was in favor of making it a majority of heads of families within a radius of 600 feet of the proposed saloon, where the heads of families do not exceed fifty, and where this number is exceeded the signatures of twenty-five shall be required. Business men as well as the heads of families will also be permitted to sign. The trustees reserve the right, however, to refuse a license even after all the requirements are complied with. The trustees were unanimous in prohibiting a saloon being conducted in the rear of a grocery store and also near a public school.

Central Hose Company.

No official notice has been served upon the officers or members of Central Hose Company certifying that the company was disbanded by the City Trustees, and until such notice is served the company will consider itself to be in legal existence. The Trustees in their resolution disbanding the company omitted to direct the clerk to notify the company of their action, and the clerk does not feel at liberty to send the necessary communication. Trustee Neal seems to have it "in" for the company. When C. Kohlmoos went to the City Clerk to get the warrant for the company's allowance, $25, for the month of May, it was refused him by the Clerk, who stated that he had been directed by Mr. Neal, chairman of the Finance Committee, not to issue the warrant. The resolution disbanding the company was adopted May 25th, and the company naturally felt that it was entitled to the allowance for the month, as the expenses were running along.

General News.

J. C. Ross, of the undertaking firm of Ross & Wever, arrived in Alameda this morning from Salt Lake City, his present place of residence.

Dr. G. P. Reynolds will leave next week on an extended trip through the State. He expects to be gone about three weeks.

Alameda will send a big delegation of bicycle riders to the league races at Stockton July 4th. Many will go on the boat which will leave San Francisco on the evening of the 3d.

L. H. Griffin was walking on High street several days ago, when he encountered a saloonkeeper named Busch. Griffin had once testified against Busch when an effort was made to have Busch's license revoked. When the two met, Busch commenced to swear and Griffin thought he was the object of Busch's wrath. He therefore had him arrested for disturbing the peace. Busch was tried this morning and testified that he was swearing at a dog and not at Griffin. Justice Byler gave him the benefit of the doubt and acquitted him.

While L. F. Kibby was playing with his 2-year-old daughter Tuesday night, tossing her in the air, she commenced to cough and instantly expired. An autopsy was held and heart failure was revealed to be the cause of death. The child had just recovered from an attack of la grippe and all its vital organs were found to be more or less diseased.

The verdict of the Coroner's jury in the case of Lorenz Movrous, the milkman, who was found dead yesterday morning in Alameda, was that he died from injuries resulting from falling from his wagon.

THE BIDS FOR SUPPLIES.

The Board of Public Works Will Award the Contracts on Tuesday Next.

They will now be laid before the board for consideration and the awards will be made on Tuesday next. In the matter of the supplies for the school department though, the bids have been turned over to Superintendent McClymonds, who will figure them out and report to the board. The principal contest in the school supplies is for desks, the bidders being the Bancroft Company, C. F. Weber & Co. and the Sterling Company. The bids of Weber and Sterling are about the same, the prices varying for the different sizes.

Meat—Corned beef, fresh beef and fresh mutton: Schaffer, .0320 per pound; Rice & White, .0325 per pound. The estimated quantity required is 32,500 pounds.

Bread—Ehrenfortt, .03 per pound. Estimated quantity wanted, 40,000 pounds.

Coal—Anthracite, $15 per ton; Wellington, $10 50 per ton. C. R. Allen is the sole bidder.

A BEATEN PATH.

The Once Untrodden Hondo Now a Thoroughfare.

Ever since the celebrated starvation trip of A. A. Moore, Judge F. W. Henshaw, Colonel W. C. Little, George E. De Golia and Emil Nusbaumer through the great gorge of the Hondo on one of the tributaries of Alameda creek, there has been a longing among the members of the party to explore again the fastnesses where they suffered such privations. Many are the stories they have told of how the trout breached from the dark waters, and of how the least skillful of fishermen could kill a 2 backload of fish in less than no time Before the party mentioned made the passage of the gorge it was common talk among them that the foot of white man had never trodden the precipitous banks of the brawling stream. The adventurous spirits believed that the place was still a virgin solitude and that another trip there, properly provisioned and equipped, would yield them much sport and more fish. So they wiled away many hours with tales of what they would do when they again whipped the stream.

Last week Messrs. Moore, Henshaw and Nusbaumer of the original party made the trip. They came right back. The Hondo was not all their fancy painted it. They fished one day. Their catch amounted to fifteen fish. If they had caught a hundred more of the same size they would have had as much as a pound of fish altogether. They found three men on the stream, four others who were just returning from their fifth trip there this season, and a beaten path on each side of the gorge. Bait boxes, some of them with the worms still wriggling, were found all along the stream. Judge Henshaw picked up a new revolver dropped by some fisherman.

"All it needs is a little macadam to make it a traveled thoroughfare," said Mr. Nusbaumer sadly. Another sportsmen's idol has been shattered. The last trout stream in the vicinity is fished out.

Hennessy Would Not Prosecute.

Thomas Stack, the gardener who was arrested for battery on Michael Hennessy in the grounds of the Sacred Heart Convent, managed to compromise his difficulty, and the case was dismissed in the Police Court this morning on payment of $5 costs.

The Electric Railroad Cannot Be Built There.

THE FRANCHISE WILL NOT BE GRANTED.

Successful Opposition to the Proposed Ordinance Providing for Inspection of Engines.

The regular lobby attendance at the Council was augmented at the meeting of the Committee of the Whole last night by a number of people personally interested in matters that were to be brought up for consideration. There was therefore a large attendance when at 8 o'clock the meeting was brought to order, Mr. Garthorne being in the chair and all the members being present save Messrs. Pardee and Nelson.

The protest against granting a franchise to the Oakland and Berkeley Rapid Transit Company for a street railroad on Ninth street, between Grove and Franklin streets, was the first special order of business, and J. L. Barker took the floor. He said that Ninth street is three and a half feet narrower than the other streets, that it is blocked with traffic, and that an electric road is not needed there. He was followed by A. C. Henry, A. J. Snyder and Mr. Nichols, all of whom added their voices to the protest, and then Councilman Macdonald remarked that he for one was not disposed to grant the franchise.

Before settling the matter, though, the protest against granting the same company a franchise from Franklin and Second streets to Water street was also brought up, and after J. P. Taylor had spoken strongly against it, Councilman Watkinson moved that it be recommended to the Council that neither franchise be granted. It was so ordered.

ENGINEERS' LICENSES.

A protest against the proposed ordinance requiring the inspection and licensing of stationary engineers came up next, and John Britton said that the steam users and manufacturers of the city are opposed to it. He objected to the appointment of an autocratic inspector, and requested that the steam users of the city be required to insure their boilers or give a bond to the city for their safety.

George Roth of the Eagle Box Factory next followed in protest, and said that the ordinance would drive small manufactories out of the city.

The other side of the question was now brought up, Engineers Godboldt, Wallace and Laperle speaking in favor of it. They declared that the ordinance would increase the pay of engineers and be a great safeguard.

Councilman Macdonald, however, joined his voice to the protestants and made a motion that it be recommended that the Council do not pass the ordinance. There was unanimous assent.

THE COMMERCE STREET SEWER.

The Commerce-street sewer assessment came up in connection with Superintendent Wall's application for extra instructions. On motion of Mr. Macdonald, it was recommended that the Council technically comply with the street law, by making some slight changes, while virtually leaving the assessment as it is.

M. J. Keller now appeared with a protest against the proposed ordinance imposing a license on merchants. The matter was postponed to the next committee meeting.

The request of the Welsh Presbyterian Church for a sewer on Harrison street was recommended to be granted.

An ordinance reducing to ten feet width of the sidewalks on Sixteenth street, from Peralta street to the railroad depot, at the west end of the street, was also recommended to be passed.

On suggestion of Mr. Garthorne permission was granted for making uniform the sidewalk on Chester street, between Seventh and Eighth streets.

Auditor Snow, noting a lull that now occurred in the proceedings, asked permission to speak. He said he wanted to give the Council a little friendly advice, and then stated that the charter provides that the Council shall have power to provide for public printing, all of which shall be provided by the Board of Public Works on requisition of the Council when the expenditures exceed $100. The annexation election would involve considerable printing of blanks, etc., he said, and in view of the charter he would not audit any bills for printing costing over $100 unless they arose through requisitions on the Board of Public Works.

Mr. Macdonald asked the Auditor a few questions about the matter and then the subject was dropped. In connection with it, though, it was remarked that the new registers will have to be prepared for the annexation election, and the Printing Committee should make preparations.

The committee then adjourned.

THURSDAY.....JUNE 11, 1891.

THE rain left a diamond in many a flower—but not in the city's parks.

WORK on the boulevard is to begin at once. Things are humming in Oakland.

ANOTHER young Napoleon of finance has turned up in the person of a $14 a week clerk, who contrived to steal $60,000 from his employers, the proprietors of the New York Churchman.

THE push and enterprise now prevalent everywhere in Oakland is already bearing fruit. The Fruit Vale district, which has so long held aloof from the city, is now moving for annexation. The people in the district wish to share in the prosperity of a city which shows such a faith in itself and so plainly evinces its determination to go ahead.

THE story of Maggie Getty and the man she killed is only one of a series which comes with unhappy constant repetition in the city on the other side of the bay. The woman is seduced, the man ill treats her, she kills him and the jury sets her free. It is an invariable sequence of wrong piled upon wrong in the effort to make the original wrong right.

ONE of the surest indications of life in a city is its patronage of amusements. Oakland is giving out these indications. Its recently organized Jockey Club is busily organizing race meetings; the Gentlemen's Driving Association is negotiating for a large tract of land on which to establish a race course; the great aquatic pavilion is about to open, and yesterday ground was broken for a theater which is to be as fine as any in the State.

THINGS seem to be shaping themselves in Ohio for the nomination of Major McKinley this fall for Governor by the Republicans. It is a bold move, and should be a decisive test on the issue of protection against free trade. McKinley's election would make him a very strong candidate for the Republican nomination next year. His defeat would leave things in a very bad muddle. It is this condition which has hitherto made it seem doubtful whether the Republicans could afford to take the risk of nominating McKinley, but in politics as in war it is audacity that wins.

ALREADY the proposed building of the electric road to Haywards has created a stir in property between Fruit Vale and San Leandro. Tracts are being cut up and placed on the market. This is the first show of activity in these holdings in years. If the property-owners will see their own interests in the proper light and provide a generous bonus for the road they will be rich before they know it. If they are niggardly and do not encourage the building of the road, some other locality, more wide-awake, will persuade prosperity to come its way and the region between Oakland and Haywards will suffer from a neglect which it has brought upon itself.

WORK on the new theater has already begun. The excavators are busily engaged. The building is to be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible. Mr. Macdonough will fulfill his promises to the letter. He is not wasting any time in hemming and hawing. That was a practice of the old days. Now action follows quick upon idea. There is no question about the theater being a paying investment. By the time it is completed Oakland will be so full of life that the people will be driven to a theater for relaxation from the business excitement of the day. It will be an institution in which the city will take pride and support with a feeling of local patriotism.

The Great Cannery.

When the J. Lusk Cannery was in operation at Temescal it was the largest fruit-canning establishment in the world. Its closing was recognized as a distinct blow to the prosperity of Oakland and vicinity. But now there has been established right in the city itself a still larger cannery which will employ a greater army of operatives. This is as distinctively a great benefit to the community.

The Oakland Preserving Company's new works are models in every department. They have a capacity of 65,000 cans a day, and in the hight of the season will give work to between 750 and 800 employes. This is the style of enterprise which Oakland welcomes. The city, which is now bustling with its new life, wants just such factories to locate along its water front and give employment to people who come here to live.

The example of the cannery in locating its principal offices here and transacting all its business in Oakland should also be followed by other manufacturing enterprises. In this way they become distinctively Oakland enterprises and the city takes a proper local pride in them.

How's This for Sleep?

Professor W. W. Anderson, Principal of Hopkins Academy of this city, has been saying to the Fresno Expositor:

I don't care to speak disparagingly of Oakland, but I'll tell you that Fresno's streets and buildings are ahead of Oakland's. Oakland when compared with Fresno is a very sleepy town. Fresno is as far ahead of Oakland as Oakland is ahead of some smaller towns that I could mention.

Professor Anderson must have been hermetically sealed in his academy on the hill for several years before he escaped to Fresno. He is speaking of Oakland as he remembers it in the dead past. If he will take pains to look over Oakland in the living present he will change his mind. In the matter of business buildings we are a little behind yet, but are rapidly getting to the front. In the matter of streets, however, we outshine anything on the coast.

As for being a sleepy town, just look again, professor. Do you see those miles upon miles of cable and electric roads already reaching out into the suburbs? Do you note that franchises are being asked for others faster than the Council can grant them? Do you appreciate the fact that bituminous rock pavement is being laid in long smooth miles, and that other miles are already petitioned for? Have you noticed that work on the great boulevard has been ordered begun? Have you seen the ground broken for the new theater, after a bonus of $10,000 was raised for it among the citizens? Do you know that an aquatic theater, which is almost a palace in its cost and appointments, is to be thrown open this month? Have you heard that property wherever the cable and electric roads have penetrated has more than doubled in value in a year, and that all property in and near the city has a quick sale at big figures whenever placed on the market? Are you in touch with the fact that just as soon as we dispose of the annexation question next month we will issue bonds for public improvements in an amount which will make Fresno's eyes stick out and cause the entire country to wonder? Have you seen laid within two years enough miles of cement and bituminous rock sidewalks to line all the streets of Fresno? Do you notice that prosperity is abroad everywhere? Did you see the list of the new buildings erected last month? Have you had your attention called to the cost and architectural beauty of those buildings?

No, professor dear, Oakland is not a sleepy town. The sleep is all in your own eyes.

THE grasshoppers' progress is watched with some anxiety. A Fresno scientist, who has been observing their behavior, tells us that they are hopping toward the northeast, which should be good news if they persevere. There is not much to hurt up there unless they chew off the peaks of Shasta or Lassen buttes. The professor further tells us that the marching grasshoppers roost by night in the tops of the alfalfa trees from which they are gathered every morning fresh by the farmers and put up in sacks. Last of all comes a Sonoma grape grower who has invested the tops of his vines in paper bags which he fondly imagines will protect the nascent shoots. The fierce and hungry grasshoppers of Sonoma, however, simply regard the bags as an agreeable change of diet, and the vineyard man himself is afraid to be out after dark lest he share the fate of the unfortunate French explorer, recently devoured by the carnivorous grasshoppers of the Sahara.

THE suit which will determine the title to the property in the great San Pablo ranch, lying north of Berkeley, is soon to be decided. Once titles are settled in that rich region another large area tributary to this city will be properly improved. Then an electric road to San Pablo will become a paying investment.

THE financial strength of the country was never so clearly shown as by the fact that in the past three months we have exported $60,000,000 in gold to strengthen the depleted bank reserves of Europe, and yet the drain has scarcely caused a ripple in the financial world of America.

At Last a Boulevard.

At last the boulevard has emerged from the realm of speculation and has become a fact. We have been talking about it for a quarter of a century, and it has always seemed far away in the mists of the future. But now work is to begin on it right away. Nineteen thousand dollars is to be expended at once. By the time that money is exhausted the city will have had time to vote bonds for its completion. The West Oakland park improvement will go "hand in hand" with the construction of the great driveway and the dredging of Lake Merritt.

In former years the beginning of work on such a great improvement would have been considered an event of such importance as to call for a big jollification meeting. But improvements are coming so thick and fast in Oakland now that if each were greeted with a jollification the people would all get husky with continual hurrahing, and the wood yards would be overtaxed to supply material for bonfires.

However, nothing of greater consequence has occurred in this vicinity in many years than the ordering of work in Lake Merritt. It will give property values another lift and encourage the live men of the town to renewed efforts. The City Council and the Board of Public Works deserve the plaudits of the entire community for the vigor with which they have taken hold of a project in which every man, woman and child in all the city is more or less directly interested.

PEOPLE do not look for jokes in the Supreme Court reports, but the new volume, containing the decision of the Contra Costa Squirrel Ordinance case, shows that Justice Works has a neat wit of his own. In his opinion he says:

The question as to the constitutionality of the ordinance is gravely and learnedly discussed by counsel on both sides, and Cooley's Constitutional Limitations, Potter's Dwarris on Construction of Statutes, Sedgwick on Constitutional Law and other constitutional authorities, and decided cases innumerable, are cited in aid of and against its invalidity. It is certainly a most effective means of abating a nuisance, viz., the squirrels, and bringing about a very desirable end. We regret exceedingly that we cannot see our way clear to uphold and enforce such an important and original piece of legislation. Indeed, it would give us great pleasure to see the power here assumed applied to snakes, tarantulas, ants, flies, fleas and other reptiles, insects and pests which tend to make man's life a burden, and to have it exercised and enforced in every county in the State.

THE San Francisco Chronicle of Sunday last published an edition which every one at all interested in the subject of irrigation should read carefully and put away for reference. Beyond this it was an edition of which every Californian can be proud, as it bristled with enterprise and the go-ahead spirit which should characterize everything in the State. It was particularly timely, as irrigation is now claiming a great share of public attention, and the facts presented were set out in a way to make them easily comprehended and of practical benefit. It was a splendid issue of a splendid paper.

AN electric road is to be constructed from San Francisco to Redwood City, through Baden and San Mateo. The outside towns are greatly elated over the fact. Fares between the terminal points are to be 20 cents each, and cars are to run every half hour. This should spur on the owners of property between this city and Haywards to greater efforts on behalf of the proposed electric road through their territory. We must be forehanded in such matters, as Oakland is now setting the pace for the State in the matter of improvements.

THE baccarat scandal has been the wellspring of some very queer comment, but we have seen nothing quite as good as that of the San Mateo Times-Gazette. Talking of the Prince of Wales, the editor says:

He's always there, or at the corner of the alley, and turns up to get his little witness fee. Isn't he a dandy! This time it's a low-down—no, beg pardon—high-up case of cheating at "keards." H. R. H. says Lord Cummins had a reflector so situated that he could see his opponent's hand.

AMONG the echoes of the Cumming case not the least amusing are the reporters' comments on the demeanor of the plaintiff. When the verdict was rendered we are solemnly told that he "folded his arms and looked straight at the jury, but otherwise he did not move a muscle." Was he expected to have a fit? The reporter, however, records with evident satisfaction that the plaintiff's relative, Lord Middleton, blushed first and then turned pale.

KELLER GETS A NEW TRIAL.

The Case Postponed on Account of Mr. Church's Marriage.

P. J. Keller, the florist, has won his fight for a new trial for battery on Robert North. It was obtained by his attorney, Mr. Dodge, on the grounds that new and important evidence had been discovered, and affidavits were prepared to that effect. When the date of setting the trial was argued Mr. Church suggested that it be June 18th, but was reminded that there were two cases already set for that day, and furthermore that he was to be married on the day before.

There was a general laugh at this and Mr. Church consented to the trial being set for the 25th inst.

Justices Courts.

The case of the people against C. A. Klinkner of Golden Gate, accused of a misdemeanor for maintaining an open sewer on his premises, has been dismissed in Justice Snook's court.

The case of Mrs. Lyons, accused of cruelty to a minor child, will be tried before Justice Snook Friday morning.

Judgment has been given in favor of Mrs. L. Warren, who recently brought a replevin suit to recover possession of a horse from E. E. Randall.

Severe Case of La Grippe.

C. L. Neale, recently deputy under County Clerk Crane, is lying seriously ill at his residence on Seventeenth street, near Castro, with ulcerated sore throat, the direct result of la grippe. His family are all prostrated with a milder form of the same disease. He is under the care of a skillful physician, and with good nursing will doubtless recover.

Legal Forms Are Necessary.

Superintendent of Streets Wall this morning sent a communication to the City Council stating that he is in receipt of a resolution authorizing him to make a new assessment for the Commerce street sewer. As, however, section 11 of the street law instructs that new assessments can only be made in accordance with explicit instructions issued by the Council he asks for further details.

People May Pass Here, Though.

C. L. Parish et al. have filed a protest with the Council against the passing of the resolution of intention for constructing sidewalks on Chestnut street, between Twenty-first and Twenty-sixth streets. Their reason is that along the whole of said distance there are only fourteen cottages, and that the sidewalks are not required.

Cleanliness and Godliness.

The Welsh Presbyterian Church has petitioned the Council for a sewer in Harrison street, from Thirteenth to Fourteenth streets.

— SOMETHING NEW — TO PURCHASERS OF FRUIT VALE LANDS.

IN THE OFFERING FOR SALE OF A TRACT of land in small subdivisions, on easy terms, by speculators or operators in real estate, it is customarily deemed necessary that there should be a margin of nearly 100 per cent between the value of the tract as a whole and that to be realized in lots, in order to cover expenses of sale, commission, interest on capital, and a reasonable net profit to the speculator. I have a plot of land containing nearly twenty acres, desirably situated at the terminus of the Highland Park and also of the new Fruit Vale Avenue Railroads, which I would be willing to sell for $20,000 as an entirety. The streets are graded. Plank sidewalk laid from the railroad and throughout the tract. This property is so situated that it could be subdivided into lots of 50 foot frontage and sold at a handsome advance over the price named if purchasers desire. If a syndicate of buyers be formed to take up the entire tract within a short time, I propose to offer the property in Twenty Large Subdivisions of about an Acre—each subdivision having a street frontage of 200 to 300 feet—on the following terms: Price of each of the twenty sub divisions:

$1000—ONE-QUARTER CASH—$1000

Subscriptions will be taken from proposed purchasers—a deposit being made at time of subscription of $100 for each plot; within 30 days, or as soon as fifteen subscriptions have been made, $100 more must be paid; then subscribers to make their selections, subscriber No. 1 having first choice, No. 2 the second choice, and so on in numerical order. There is not a single plot in the tract that is not well worth the price paid—many of them are worth very much more by the plan indicated each purchaser is independent of all others, and those who subscribe early have a great advantage of first choice. A Certificate of Title by approved searchers will be furnished each purchaser, without expense, if desired. Deed and mortgage prepared without charge. To each purchaser who may erect a dwelling on his lot within a specified time, a Free Pass over the Street Railroads to either Fruit Vale or Brooklyn station for five years will be furnished. Map showing location and further information can be had at the office of the undersigned. Intending purchasers will please call early, as the proposition is an advantageous one for buyers and is likely to be taken up promptly.

DIMOND TRACT

Fruit Vale Avenue, East Oakland.

Fruit Vale avenue has for many years been deemed to be one of the most desirable locations this side of the bay, for residence property. It is sheltered from winds, has a sunny exposure and delightful climate, and is handsomely improved by a number of the most elegant homes and charming ornamental gardens. The tract now offered for sale is a portion of the home place of Mr. Hugh Dimond, and is situated on the avenue, at the intersection of Hopkins street—the terminus of the Highland Park and also the new Fruit Vale street railways. The Highland Park line is about to be re-constructed and re-equipped, and will furnish frequent access to and from this property, including early and late trips.

Lots will be sold on liberal terms if desired. Superior cement sidewalks are being laid. City water is being introduced. It is also proposed to have electric lights upon the avenue.

AS AN INDUCEMENT to parties erecting homes, arrangements have been made with the Railway Companies by which a FREE PASS, good for five years, will be furnished for each dwelling erected upon the Tract within a specified time. For the purpose of protecting the property and insuring a good class of purchasers, a stipulation will be required—that no house worth less than $500 shall be erected. Purchasers will, however, not be required to build at all, if they do not desire. There lots have upon them, choice, vigorous, young fruit trees, now in full bearing. For map and further particulars, apply to the office of Avoid all Substitutes for Royal Baking Powder.

No other Baking Powder is "just as good as the 'Royal'" either in strength, purity or wholesomeness. The "Royal" is superior to all others in all ways. Most housekeepers know this from their practical experience, and the reports of the U. S. Government investigations show it officially. The Government chemist says the "Royal" is "undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public."

If some grocers try to sell another baking powder in place of the "Royal" they do so because they can make a greater profit upon the other; good evidence of the superiority of the "Royal." To give greater profit the other must be a lower-cost powder, and to cost less it must be made with alum or cheaper and inferior materials.

Because the "Royal" uses more highly refined and expensive materials it costs more to manufacture than any other baking powder, but it is correspondingly purer and higher in leavening strength, and accordingly of greater money value to consumers, although the retail price to them is generally the same. Consumers are entitled to full value for their money, and therefore will not, if wise, accept any substitute for the "Royal."

Unfortunately, not only are many of these would-be substitute powders made from inferior and unwholesome materials, but they are placed before the public with advertisements intended to mislead as to their true character. A powder advertised by its manufacturers to have printed upon its label all the ingredients used in it, proves upon analysis to have in its composition four substances not named upon its label, two of which are lime and sulphuric acid. Most of the alum powders are fraudulently sold as pure cream of tartar goods.

The danger incurred, should such powders be substituted for the "Royal," will be apparent to every consumer.

FUGITA FUGIT.

The Japanese Consul Stopped at Berkeley.

TWO HIGHWAYMEN ORDER HIM TO HALT.

Instead of Obeying He Runs Rapidly to His Boarding House and Saves His Coin.

E. Fugita, the Consul from Japan to San Francisco, took up his residence at Mrs. M. D. Rigg's boarding-house on Durant avenue, Berkeley, a few weeks ago. On Tuesday night last he came from San Francisco on the 11:15 boat, arriving at Dwight way station a few minutes after midnight. He had proceeded about one block from the station when he was ordered to halt by two men whom he could not see on account of the darkness of the night. The Consul, instead of halting, ran toward his boarding-place as fast as he could. The highwaymen apparently did not realize that their victim had escaped until he had gained such a start that they were unable to overtake him. The Consul had an amount of money with him on that night, and wore considerable jewelry, so that the footpads would have made a rich haul had they been successful. The general impression is that tough residents of Berkeley attempted the robbery.

COULD NOT TAKE A JOKE.

One University Student Who Wants to Arrest Another.

Constable Fonzo of Berkeley is looking for Foulks of the class of '92 of the University, and carries in his pocket a warrant for his arrest, which was issued on the day preceding the ceremonies of the cremation of Bourdon and Minto by the Freshmen class. The warrant is based on a complaint sworn to by Denman of the class of '94, the charge being horse stealing. It seems that on the day mentioned Foulks borrowed a horse belonging to Denman without asking permission. The horse was tied to a post, and Foulks appropriated it for about two hours for class purposes, and then returned and tied it where he found it. In the meantime Denman appeared before Judge Long and swore to a complaint charging Mr. Foulks with horse stealing. It is reported that Mr. Foulks has left town. The case will probably never be tried. Mr. Denman should take a fall out of himself.

The Berkeley Band.

The Berkeley Band, which made its first appearance in public last Monday night at the mass meeting at Newbury, is composed of the following: W. H. Cory, instructor and solo clarionet; C. J. Social and Fraternal.

The Young Peoples' Society of the Baptist Church gave a very pleasant social last Thursday night.

The Odd Fellows have elected the following officers to serve for the ensuing term: E. C. Galloupe, noble grand; John Spencer, vice grand; J. W. Sticker, secretary; Joseph Chappie, treasurer, and Robert Gregg trustee.

A joint meeting of Lookout Mountain Post and Relief Corps was held last Tuesday evening. As there had been a rather poor attendance lately at the meetings of each, some of the ladies thought that they would have something extra on this occasion to wake up some of the absent ones. A liberal supply of ice cream, cakes, etc. was procured and after the business had been transacted those present adjourned to the banquet hall where the tables had been spread. It is reported that several of those who have been absent quite often will attend henceforth, as they do not desire again to be left out on an occasion of this kind.

General News.

Real estate business in this end of town is picking up rapidly, and at present as much is being done in proportion of the territory as in the East End. Property is cheaper than in the East End, and many people are purchasing lots on which to build small cottages.

The closing exercises of the San Pablo Avenue School took place yesterday afternoon. The graduates were Bert Price, A. Wilson, Josie Roller, B. Truman, Marie Klunk, Annie Dickinson, Angie Sturtevant, A. Anderson, C. Hansen and W. Murphy.

PIEDMONT.

The Dancing Pavilion at the Park to Be Opened Tomorrow.

Tomorrow evening a grand concert will be given at Blair Park. The occasion will be the opening of the new dance platform to the public. The cable company will furnish the music, and a good time is expected. The pavilion is now completed, and will accommodate about 100 people. A neat canopy of canvas covers it, giving it a cozy appearance.

Personal Notes.

Dr. Buckel of John street will move from her home on Saturday. She will shortly build a cottage farther out in Piedmont. In a day or two she will join a party going to the Yosemite valley.

H. Brandt of Moss avenue is ill with an attack of measles.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry, from Utah, will visit friends on Vernal avenue this week. They expect to purchase some property in this section and make their home in Piedmont.

J. P. Garlick yesterday was out inspecting his property on Oakland avenue.

EAST OAKLAND.

The New Sessions' Double-Decked Cars Arrive.

Yesterday two of the double-decked cars arrived in East Oakland from the East, and they created a great deal of interest. Two more of the cars are expected to arrive today. When the Highland Park road is completed, they will be used on it. Then East Oaklanders cannot complain of poor service. Along the new road convenient stations will be fitted up, and the roadway will be leveled. Fifteen new horses are pastured in the lot by the side of California College, but they will soon be used on the road.

Drug Stores Worked by Sharpers.

It will be remembered that a short while ago THE TRIBUNE exclusively exposed a gang of sharpers who were swindling the druggists of Central Oakland. The swindling was confined chiefly to the principal chemist shops on Broadway, and was accomplished this way: A well-dressed lady would purchase a bill of goods at a drug store and suddenly remember that she did not have money enough to pay for them, and get the clerk to allow her to take the articles on the promise to send the remainder of the money. Then the woman would take the same articles to another store and say they were not what she wanted, and get from the druggist the purchase price. This went on for some time, but after the exposure it ceased. The druggists should all have taken warning, but in East Oakland they evidently did not, for the drug firm of Wentworth & Smith was duped in a similar manner only recently. This time the shaper was a man, and by obtaining a bill of goods at certain stores he probably got a discount, or else bought them at wholesale. He then took the articles separately to the various apothecary shops in East Oakland and on the pretense that he had purchased them there would get back his money. Nearly all the drug stores in East Oakland have been worked in a similar manner.

Reception to Dr. Chapman Postponed.

Last evening a grand reception was to have been tendered to Dr. E. S. Chapman, pastor of the Brooklyn Presbyterian Church, after the usual weekly prayer meeting. Preparations had been made for it and the congregation turned out in full force to welcome home their devoted pastor. Dr. Chapman has been in Portland and was expected to return last evening, but as the prayer meeting was in progress word was brought in that Dr. Chapman would not be present, being delayed in the railroad disaster near Redding. The pastor was not hurt. His congregation felt exceedingly disappointed and all the work of decorating the church went for naught. The reception will be held, however, some time next week.

Football to Be Revived.

The Oakland Football Club is starting in again to practice kicking the oval. The large lot on the corner of Fourth avenue and Eleventh street has been chosen as the most desirable field, and here the boys will practice every Saturday evening from 6:30 to 7:45. Last Saturday a lively game was played, which demonstrated the fact that a large amount of practice is needed. There is, however, good material in the club, and some brilliant things may be expected from it in the future.

Personal and General.

A schooner is unloading lumber at the Brooklyn wharf.

The Twenty-third Avenue Improvement Association will hold a meeting next Tuesday evening.

John Lewis expects to go East on a short trip soon.

Mrs. Van Amringe of 1730 Ninth avenue has gone East to attend her daughter, Miss Janette Van Amringe, who is very ill there.

Joseph Champion will shortly leave for Arizona, where he will act as assayer in his father's silver mine.

Miss Edith Davis of Fifth avenue will shortly take a trip to San Jose to visit friends.

Cats abound in East Oakland in great numbers. Every evening they hold indignation meetings on Thirteenth avenue, much to the annoyance of the residents. It is said that a charitable person has offered fifty cents a head for each of the animals killed.

The East Oakland Planing Mills will probably not be rebuilt.

The regular weekly prayer meeting of the Tenth Avenue Baptist Church was held last evening. No sensations.

WEST OAKLAND.

Cruel Boys Attack a Chinaman — The Factories at the Point.

Cruel boys yesterday attacked a poor old Chinese scavenger. He naturally resented their brutality, and struck Charlie Ray with his club and made a deep scalp wound. Another boy, Walter Physitour, was kicked by the Chinaman. But the poor old rag picker suffered most.

The members of the Bay View Tennis Club will leave on a camping trip at Russian river, to be gone about three weeks. Those who will go are: Harry Atwater, Dave McWade, Louis Herrera, Frank Youse, Eva Crawford, Ella McKeon, Maggie Jackson, Agnes Johnson, and also Mrs. T. O. Crawford, who will act as chaperon.

Walter Hyde left yesterday for Ogden. He will return in about three weeks.

Mrs. Cora B. Casey and family have gone to Sacramento to spend the summer vacation with their relatives in that city.

Mr. Moore of 1785 Seventh street is having the front partition torn out of his office.

Not long ago George H. Jaffress, who resides on Wood and Taylor streets, left for Washington, D. C. A dispatch received stated that Mr. Jeffress had been appointed Postmaster at West Oakland, but that statement is denied at the Oakland Postoffice.

On account of the many picnics at Shell Mound Park extra cars have to be run on the Berkeley trains daily. Picnics are billed for nearly every day this and next month.

On the north side of Seventh street, between Wood and Pine, is a bakery whose proprietor has suddenly disappeared and left a portion of West Oakland to wonder over his whereabouts. The bakery door was locked yesterday, and probably will be so from now on. A diligent search was made throughout the house, but nothing was found indicating whither the baker has gone.

Mrs. George Roberts has left on a visit to Northern California, where some of her relatives reside.

The Wentworth Boot and Shoe Factory is running full blast.

The Sash, Door and Blind Factory is greatly rushed. There are about 200 hands employed there at the present time.

ALL ARRANGED IN SECRET.

The Public Business of the City Board of Education.

The Way and the Reason That Miss Campbell of Vallejo Was Elected to a Position.

A hint was given out on Monday evening at the meeting of the Board of Education of the way the newly-elected members of the board transact the business of the public. Reference was made at that meeting to a secret caucus of members held before the public meeting to decide upon the election of a teacher. More information of the secret meetings has been obtained from School Director Getchell, who does not believe in transacting in secret the public business of the city. Director Getchell spoke out in meeting declaring his opposition to secret caucuses and asking the other directors to make public the action they had taken when conferring together in the office of the Superintendent. They did not take up his "defi," but adjourned instead.

The School Directors have been accustomed to assemble on Saturday evenings before the Monday evenings on which meetings are held to fix up a slate for the proceedings of the meeting, that the business may slip through without any obstacles or too much debate. However, they did not meet last Saturday evening, and therefore on Monday evening assembled in the Superintendent's office to agree upon the business to be transacted that same evening.

The election of a teacher in the Durant school was considered and here is a matter of importance. The platform of the Republican party passed by the convention that nominated all the present members of the Board of Education makes a positive declaration in favor of employing in the Oakland schools residents of Oakland.

Therefore, when the matter of election of a teacher was considered in this secret caucus, Mr. Getchell proposed the selection of Miss Grace Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Campbell of this city. Miss Campbell is now a successful teacher in Livermore in this county. Seeing that she could not receive the support of a majority of his colleagues on the board Mr. Getchell proposed Miss Stone, Miss Henderson and also other residents of Oakland, but without success.

Director Girard of the Second ward and Director Rowell, elected at large but a resident of the Second ward, favored the selection of Miss Campbell of Vallejo.

The Durant school is located in the Second ward and the two Directors who live in that ward were strenuous for the appointment of Miss Campbell of Vallejo. The result indicates that the old rule of permitting the director or directors to nominate and practically to select the teachers in the school, or schools in the ward they live in is again in practice.

In the way of appointing Miss Campbell of Vallejo, however, was the plank in the Republican platform declaring that, wherever possible, teachers must be selected from residents of Oakland. But that stood in the way but a minute. A plan to crawl under that plank was devised. The Superintendent was authorized to notify Miss Campbell of Vallejo that she was selected on probation for six months and that at the end of that time she would be regularly elected a teacher. Of course after Miss Campbell of Vallejo has lived here for six months she will be a resident of Oakland, and then may be elected a teacher, and the implied pledge in the platform will not have been violated.

In this secret meeting President Smith called the board to order and put the question on the motion to instruct the superintendent to notify Miss Campbell of Vallejo of her appointment for six months. The motion prevailed.

No notice of that action was taken in the regular open meeting that followed the secret caucus. Of course the legality of electing a teacher in secret is questioned. Superintendent McClymonds is reported to have said at the secret caucus that City Attorney Johnson gave his opinion that appointment of teachers in secret meeting is legal.

However that may be Miss Campbell of Vallejo undoubtedly will teach at the Durant school and will get her salary.

A member of the board says that Dr. T. W. Hall, the dentist, a resident of the Second ward, procured the position for Miss Campbell of Vallejo. He was in the last Republican City Convention and strenuously supported Mr. Rowell and Mr. Girard for nomination as School Directors. In return he requested and obtained the appointment for Miss Campbell of Vallejo.

POOR MRS. CHAMBERS.

The Thrifty "Spiritual Husband" Has Her Completely Under His Control.

Mrs. Alexander Chambers still maintains that "her spiritual husband," William Warner, was revealed to her by God, and insists that she will never consider Mr. Chambers her true husband. She says she was very young when the law married her to her first husband, but she never loved him, and as she does not believe in divorce she lived with Warner when the Lord revealed him to her as her true husband. She declares she will never live with Chambers again. A neighbor states that Melia, Douglass, Broderick, and a man named "Johnnie," all fanatics, have been hanging around Mrs. Chambers, and had participated with Warner in her favors.

Still the revealed husband languishes in jail on a charge of vagrancy.

VERY SUSPICIOUS.

The Inquest on the Cason Children Will Be Concluded Tonight.

This evening Coroner Evers will conclude the inquest on the two Cason children who died two weeks ago. The chemist at the University, who analyzed the stomachs of the two children and the can of condensed milk from which they were fed, will be ready to report at that time. A small-sized sensation is expected to develop in the case, and it is believed no poison will be found in the milk can. The death of the two children at the same time, and the fact that the poison was violent enough to eat holes as large as half-dollar pieces through the stomachs are so suspicious that the Coroner will make a very rigid examination.

Vienot Dismissed.

Charles Vienot, the Indian arrested on suspicion of being the burglar who invaded Chandler's place on Thirty-sixth street, was discharged from custody this morning. Chandler and his wife on taking the witness stand both testified as to the circumstances of finding the burglar in their place at 2:30 o'clock in the morning, but neither of them could positively identify Vienot as the man.

MAN'S INGRATITUDE.

How the Hospitality of Jailer Swain Was Returned.

Jailer Swain has been forcibly reminded of the old adage about extending hospitality to a viper. A couple of days ago a petty larcenist named Robert Wilson was discharged from the City Prison and Swain, who had taken a fancy to him, took him to his place and gave him employment. Wilson reciprocated, however, by stealing some shoes and clothes from Swain's place, but he was not smart enough to get away with them and Swain landed him in the City Prison again.

He was in the Police Court this morning on a charge of petty larceny, but the case went over to tomorrow.

A New Drama by an Oaklander.

It is rumored that Lehnhardt, the popular young confectioner, is writing a novel, in which the hero and heroine are both connected with the candy business, and although we have not been shown the manuscript, we are assured of its success. The plot takes place in his candy store on Fourteenth street, and in the final act the villain, who cuts the heroine's throat with a Boston Chip, out of remorse, jumps into a barrel of molasses; the lover seeing this swallows a poisoned gum drop. Mr. Lehnhardt who is very modest, denies the rumor and says he has all he can do to supply his customers with ice cream and candy. His ice cream business is very large, as he supplies ice cream in bricks or freezers to all parts of the city.

Oakland is to have a new theater. Arrangements have about been completed for the reunion and picnic of the Native Sons on July 4th, under the direction of Piedmont Parlor, No. 120. Forty cars have been engaged by the parlor, and will leave Fourteenth and Webster streets for Forest Grove at about 8 A. M. The special trains will stop at Alameda, Mount Eden, Alvarado and San Jose to take on representatives of the parlors in those cities. The proceeds will be for the charity fund of the parlor.

All the parlors are making active preparations for the Admission day celebration, which occurs this year at Santa Cruz on September 9th. Many of the parlors have already raised large sums and will make elaborate displays.

In a few weeks Henry Lunstedt, G. S., will send out to the subordinate parlors an alphabetically arranged book, in which the subordinate parlors are to record the names, standing, etc., of all the members July 1, 1891, the idea being to get a roster of the order in his office. This is in consonance with a resolution adopted by the late Grand Parlor.

Order of Elks.

The following are the resolutions adopted by Oakland Lodge last Monday evening in memory of the late Julius Frey:

IN MEMORIAM. JULIUS FREY.

God's finger touched him and he slept,
'Twas but a short sleep; he waked in eternity,
For the good man never dies.

Brother Julius Frey, of this lodge, a man of high intellectual ability, collegiate education, polished manners, honest and firmness of purpose, generous and lovable disposition, a man who had served his native country in responsible stations, civil and military, a man who loved his family and ever was to them as a good man should be, a man who, as an Elk, ever acted with charity, justice and brotherly love to all his brothers with fidelity, has solved the mystery of living, and gone to that lodge presided over by the Grand Exalted Ruler of all.

We, his brother Elks, pay this tribute to his memory, sorrowing at his absence, sympathizing with his family, condoling with his many friends, feel nevertheless that if anyone be entitled to reward, to happiness, to rest, Brother Frey will receive the full measure thereof.

We write his faults upon the sand,
His virtues upon the tablets of love and memory.

Resolved, That this report be spread in full upon the minutes of the lodge, a copy thereof sent to the family, and the daily press, and that the secretary inscribe the name of Julius Frey upon our roll of honored dead.

Clans Fraser and Macdonald are arranging for a joint picnic at Shell Mound park early in September.

The Royal Clan will meet in Buffalo on Tuesday next. Clansman Calhoun of Macdonald was elected as a representative, but will be unable to attend. Clansman Davidson of Frazer will represent the interests of the clans on this coast. One of the changes in the laws asked for is more time in the payment of assessments on account of distance from Royal Clans headquarters.

Clan Macdonald has changed its meeting place to Fraternal Hall on Washington street, and will meet every Friday evening.

Miscellaneous.

Home Protection Division, Sons of Temperance, held their usual weekly meeting in California Hall on Saturday evening and initiated two candidates. The newly elected officers of the Grand Division, accompanied by past grand officers and sisters and brothers of various divisions, paid an official visit and were highly entertained. Short addresses, songs, etc., were listened to and coffee, sandwiches and cake served. A feature of the evening was the presentation of a beautiful souvenir by the charter members to the past grand worthy president, Brother W. B. Wadman, who instituted this division. Altogether, a most enjoyable evening was spent, the only regret being that the evening could not be lengthened, but all consoled themselves with the hope of being present next Saturday at the public entertainment and basket social to be held by this division.

The Princess Virginia Kapooluka Poomaikilona, who was King Kalakaua's beneficiary, has just been paid $5000 by the American Legion of honor. The late King became a charter member of the Honolulu Council in 1882.

ANIMALS IN WATER.

Where the Millions of Creatures in Drinking Water Come From and How They Should be Disposed of.

"I cannot understand the carelessness of people." The remark was made by a leading New York chemist who was just making an analysis for the Board of Health.

"Take the subject of drinking water for instance. What sensible man or woman would ever hold a glass of water up to the light to tell that it was pure? Even a near sighted person can see that it is full of vegetable and animal matter. In the city, where water is allowed to accumulate in tanks on the top of the roofs, naturally the bottom of the tank becomes covered with mud. In the country, wells are simply drainings from the surface water outhouses, often from barns and stables. Is it any wonder it is impure? Is it any wonder people get sick from drinking it? Some people boil the water and while this may kill the live germs, it does not remove them nor remove the vegetable matter which may be in the water and which is often poisonous. The safest way for any one to do is to mix a little pure whiskey with the water and thus wholly counteract all evil effects which may be in the water, however impure. Doctors advise this and science confirms it. But, only the purest whiskey should be used and Duffy's Pure Malt is admitted both by doctors and scientists to be the purest of all modern whisnies. Besides fortifying the system against disease, it also tones up, makes the sluggish blood circulate and replaces weakness by strength."

A Fine Testimonial.

OAKLAND, March 17th, 1891.

Having suffered for a long time from a peculiar stomach trouble, originally caused from the use of tobacco. I tried many physicians, but found no permanent relief until I consulted Dr. Bluett, 1069 Broadway, Oakland, and under whose treatment I have entirely recovered. I would urge upon all sufferers from indigestion and dyspepsia to apply to him at once, and I am satisfied that you will never regret it. I consider the doctor permanently qualified to treat troubles of this nature.

WHEREAS, Section one of "An Act to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of and for the annexation of territory to incorporated towns and cities, and for the incorporation of such annexed territory, in and as a part of such municipalities, and for the districting, government, and municipal control of annexed territory," approved March 19, 1889, provides that the boundaries of any incorporated town or city, whether heretofore or hereafter formed, incorporated, reincorporated, organized or reorganized, may be altered, and new territory annexed thereto, incorporated and included therein, and made a part thereof, upon proceedings being had and taken as in the Act provided, to wit:

The Council, Board of Trustees, or other legislative body of any such municipal corporation, upon receiving a written petition therefor containing a description of the new territory asked to be annexed to such corporation and signed by not less than one-fifth in number of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation, computed upon the number of votes cast at the last general municipal election, held therein, must without delay, submit to the electors of such municipal corporation, and to the electors residing in the territory proposed by such petition to be annexed to such corporation, the question whether such new territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in, and made a part of such municipal corporation. Such legislative body is hereby empowered, and it shall be its duty to establish, and in such notice of election designate the voting precinct or precincts, and the place or places at which the polls will be opened in such territory so proposed to be annexed, and also in such municipal corporation. And such place or places shall be that or those commonly used as voting places within such municipal corporation, and also that or those commonly used within such new territory, if any such there be. Such legislative body is empowered to and it shall appoint the officers of such election, who shall be, for each voting place in such municipal corporation, and for such voting place in said new territory, two Judges and one Inspector, each of whom shall be a qualified elector of the voting precinct in which he is appointed to act as an officer of such election. The ballots used at such election, the opening and closing of the polls, and the holding and conducting of such election shall be in conformity as far as may be, with the general laws of this State concerning elections; and the Judges and Inspectors of such election shall, immediately on the closing of the poll, count the ballots, make up and certify the tally sheets of the ballots cast at their respective polling places, seal and then immediately return the same as below provided, doing so as nearly as practicable in the manner provided in the election laws of this State; but the ballots, tally-sheets, and returns shall be so returned to and deposited with the clerk of such legislative body. Such legislative body shall at the time provided for its regular meeting next after the expiration of three days from and after the date of said election, meet and proceed to open and canvass said ballots, tally-sheets, and returns; and such canvass shall be completed at such meeting if practicable, and in any event as soon as practicable, avoiding adjournment or adjournment if possible, until said canvass is completed. Such canvass by such legislative body shall be conducted and completed as follows: The ballots cast in such outside territory, so proposed to be annexed, together with the tally-sheets and returns belonging therewith, shall be canvassed separately; and the ballots cast inside of said municipal corporation together with their tally-sheets and returns shall be canvassed separately. Immediately upon the completion of such canvass, said legislative body shall cause a record thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes, showing the whole number of ballots cast in such outside territory, the whole number of ballots cast in such municipal corporation, the number thereof cast in each in favor of annexation, and the number thereof cast in each against annexation; and if it shall appear from such canvass, that a majority of all the ballots cast in such outside territory, and a majority of all the ballots cast inside of said municipal corporation are in favor of annexation, the Clerk or other officer performing the duties of such legislative body shall promptly make and certify under the seal of said municipal corporation, and transmit to the Secretary of State a copy of said record so entered upon said minutes, together with a statement showing the date of said election and the time and result of said canvass, which document shall be filed by the Secretary of State immediately upon the receipt thereof. From and after the date of the filing of said document in the office of the Secretary of State, the annexation of such territory so proposed to be annexed shall be deemed and shall be complete, and thenceforth such annexed territory shall be to all intents and purposes a part of such municipal corporation, except only that no property within such annexed territory shall ever be taxed to pay any portion of any indebtedness or liability of such municipal corporation contracted prior to or existing at the time of such annexation. No territory which at the time such petition for such proposed annexation is presented to such legislative body, forms any part of any incorporated town or city, shall be annexed under the provisions of this Act, and

WHEREAS, Section two of this Act provides that the legislative body of any incorporated town or city which is or shall be divided into wards, and to which territory has been heretofore or shall be hereafter annexed, must by ordinance either so alter the boundaries of the wards of such municipal corporation as to include such annexed territory in one or more wards adjoining such annexed territory, or make of such annexed territory one or more additional wards: provided, that the number of wards shall not be so increased as to exceed the number which such municipal corporation may according to law have. In altering the boundaries of wards, or creating new wards, regard must be had to the number of inhabitants, so that each ward shall contain, as near as may be an equal number of inhabitants, exclusive of persons incapable of citizenship in this State.

[illegible] in conformity with the provisions of the statute hereinbefore cited, and the said ordinance, notice is given that a special election for the purpose of determining the question herein submitted, is hereby called and will be held in the said City of Oakland, and in the said new territory proposed to be annexed thereto (which said territory so proposed to be annexed is in said ordinance and hereinafter specifically described), on

IN THE CANS.

Preserving and Cooking Ripe Fruit.

A CANNERY BUILT IN EIGHT WEEKS.

The Great Plant of the Oakland Preserving Company.

Immense Buildings Occupying the Frontage of One Entire Block on First Street.

When the well known J. Lusk Canning Company, whose cannery was at Temescal, failed several years ago, one of the most important industries, that of fruit canning, was sorely crippled in this county. Nobody doubted for an instant that a fruit cannery in Oakland would pay from the very start, but Oakland capital was a little wary of such an investment, and it has remained for a party of San Francisco capitalists to give this city a cannery which will not only employ several hundred men, women and children, but one which has even a larger capacity than the old Lusk cannery.

The Oakland Preserving Company is the name of the new corporation, and to show what an energetic concern it is it is only necessary to state that the company was organized, buildings were erected and the work of fruit canning commenced all within eight weeks, and the cannery is said to be the most complete one in the United States, too. The buildings of the company occupy half a block of land, and are located on First street, between Filbert and Linden streets. The cannery proper occupies the Linden-street side, and the immense warehouse where the canned goods will be stored occupies the Filbert-street end of the lot, with the engine and boiler rooms situated in the rear on Linden street. On First street a sidetrack has been run the entire length of the block, and fresh fruit may be unloaded at one end and the car laden with canned fruit at the other end. Yesterday a TRIBUNE reporter was escorted through the new cannery and shown the workings of the new institution by Superintendent Stevens. Possibly a better idea of fruit canning could be learned by following the fruit through the different stages of preparation than any other way, with an incidental description of the different departments through which it passes.

When the green fruit is received it goes into the green fruit room at the corner of Linden street. This room is 60x130 feet in size, and 100 persons may be employed in this department if occasion demands. Here the green fruit is graded, cleaned and assorted for the packing room adjoining. This is the main department of the institution. The room is 80x100 feet in size, and is divided into two sections. On one side there are accommodations for 485 girls and women, who sit at long tables divided into individual sections. On this side the fruit is prepared for the cans according to its kind, and as each girl fills a box she drops a little tin number into it corresponding with the number of her table, which serves the dual purpose of keeping a record of her work and as a means of identification if the box of fruit is not prepared well. The boxes are gathered up by boys and carried across the room to other tables, where it is canned. Arrangements have been made on this side for 140 operatives.

The green fruit is carefully packed in the cans by the girls, who stamp their individual number on each can as a future means of identification in case the work is not well performed. From here the cans are carried to the syrup taps in the same room, which consists of a number of machines so arranged that a tray of twelve cans can be filled at one operation. Each machine supplies a different kind of syrup from tanks in the upper story, or all may be used with water where syrup is not used. And from here the fruit goes to the sealing and boiling room.

A feature of the room just described is its complete drainage. The tables used by the girls are grated and contain drains leading to spouts, which in turn connect with a main gutter under the floor, and thus all water spilled during the process of canning is carried away. Connected with the syrup machines are two drains, one which conducts the water used in washing the cans to the pipes under the floor, and the other which conducts the waste syrup that may be spilled into a tank, from which it is pumped back into the filters and reservoirs for use again.

In an adjoining room the lids are soldered to the cans as they rotate, a dozen at a time, in a machine which heats them. After the lid is sealed down a hole is punctured in the center, which allows the hot air to escape, and then a drop of solder over the hole finishes the job. The purpose of this latter operation is to force all the air from the can, and prevents the canned goods from spoiling.

The cans are next set in a tray, which is picked up by a derrick, and dropped into the boiling vats, where the fruit is cooked, a clock dial being set on each tank to show when the cans are to be lifted out. Some fruits require but few moments' immersion in the tanks, and others several hours. A feature of this department is an invention of Mr. Stevens. It is a mechanical crane which will swing in any direction, and perform its work while the engine that operates it is stationary on the floor. Other cranes do not have the advantage this one does, as it has been necessary heretofore to put the lifting mechanism either on the arm of the crane, or on a turn table, which turns with the derrick. The floor of this room is open, so that all the water spilled will run into the drains below.

The upper story of the building is used to store empty cans in, and a gallery leading from it contains the syrup tanks for the machines on the lower floor. A powerful hydraulic elevator runs from one floor to the other.

Across the alley is the warehouse made of corrugated iron, fronting 60 feet on First street by 234 feet on Filbert street. Here the cans are labeled, packed and stored after they come from the boiling vats. In one end are the general business office and the private offices of the president and the manager.

In the yard to the rear of the buildings are the engine house and the boiler rooms and the air pump for the oil furnace. The oil furnaces are used to heat the soldering irons in the boiling room, the oil being fed into the furnace on the principle of the atomizer. A twenty-five horse-power Corliss engine runs the machinery in the buildings, all the shafting and belting being placed under the floors.

The capacity of the new cannery is about 65,000 cans a day, and when running full from 750 to 800 employes will be hired; the number of persons employed of course being regulated by the quantity of fruit on hand.

The accounts with the employes are kept by the check system, thus doing away with much unnecessary book-keeping. The check slips are similar to those used by street-car conductors. Those of the piece workers are punched according to the number of boxes they fill, and those of the day laborers are punched when they commence work and when they quit each day. Saturday night the girl takes her slip to the office and is paid according to the punch-holes in it.

The cannery is the most complete of its kind on the coast and will turn out all kinds of canned fruits, preserves and jellies.

F. H. Green is superintendent of the working department.

The manager of the institution is W. A. Stevens, who is interested in the salmon canneries of Alaska. Mr. Stevens has been engaged in the canning business for twenty years, and has mastered it in every detail. The Dawson Packing Company and San Jose Fruit Cannery were both established by Mr. Stevens.

All of the Oakland Preserving Company's business will be transacted in this city, and here will be located the general offices. The directors of the Oakland Preserving Company are all San Francisco men. They are: Frederick A. Tillman (president), John H. Mangels (treasurer), Ernest A. Denicke, Frederick Tillman Jr., L. A. Marshal and Charles N. Pike.

At present the company employs about 300 people.

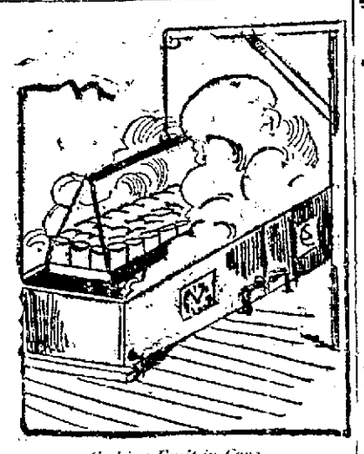

He Took the Bulletin.

Mr. Spies the Oakland agent of the Evening Bulletin, has sued J. N. Bailey the street contractor of Eighth avenue and Twentieth street to recover $7.25 claimed to be due him for subscription to that newspaper. The summons was issued in Justice Allen's Court. Bailey claims he had trouble in getting his paper regularly and figures that he owes only $3.90, which sum he will turn into court this afternoon and contest the collection of the other.

CAUGHT STEALING CHERRIES.

Morris Quinlan and Tom Harvey in a Bad Plight.

Morris Quinlan and Tom Harvey are two youths who have a strong liking for cherries, but not an income sufficient to obtain them by the regular method of purchase at the stores. Consequently, to satisfy their appetites, they set forth to locate some cherry orchard where the fence was not too high nor the dog too ferocious, and they found what they wanted at Twenty-fourth and Grove streets. Officer Rand, however, discovered them yesterday while they were enjoying their free feast and took them to the police station and charged them with petty larceny. The complaints were not ready, however, this morning, so the cases in the Police Court went over until tomorrow.

BIDS ASKED.

The Boulevard Now to Be Built.

G. F. ALLARDT TO BE THE ENGINEER.

The Stone Embankment Around the Lake Will Be the First Construction.

Work to Begin on the Eastern Side of Lake Merritt at the Twelfth Stree Dam.

Any one who thinks that the Commissioners of Public Works are not heart and soul in favor of public improvements is sadly mistaken, for their zeal and intensity were well evidenced when they met last night to consider the boulevard proposition. Two and a half hours they labored on the subject, inquiring closely into every detail, and making arrangements so that the work should be started without delay and then kept going continuously.

Engineer Allardt and City Engineer Morgan were present to aid them with technical advice, and the debate first turned on the manner in which the work is to be done. The engineering difficulties were all handled fully, so that nothing may happen that might be foreseen, and then the conversation turned on the award of the first contract.

Mr. Playter called attention to the charter provision that the debts of one year cannot be defrayed by the income of another year, and therefore, suggested that no contract be let until after July 1st. This, though, raised the point whether or not the agreement with the property-holders would hold good if the delay occurs, for the land was dedicated with the provision that the work was to commence within six months after January 1, 1891.

Mr. Carothers thought it would. The fact that the preliminary engineering lines would be run and stakes driven within the time agreed was sufficient, he said, and he added further that he did not think anyone interested in the boulevard would raise any technicalities of that kind.

Mr. Martin concurred in this and it was pointed out that as bids had to be advertised for twenty days and then would have to be considered, the contract could not, even with all expedition, be awarded until some time in July.

Mr. Allardt said that this would get the dumping well started by August and the other work would of course follow along continuously.

At this stage Mr. Playter suggested that the call for bids leave open the place where the work should be commenced. He thought it might make some difference to the contractors.

Mr. Allardt pointed out, though, that if the work begins at the charter line at the head of the lake the first contract might leave a gap between there and Twelfth street that would cost a good deal to close.

Commissioner Carothers concurred in this, and it was finally decided to order work started in on the east side of the lake at Twelfth street.

The question of how much rock would be required was next discussed liberally, City Engineer Morgan stating that the depth of mud ranges from twelve to forty feet, the deepest places being at Watson slough and the mouth of the main lake sewer. It was conceded, though, that work under the first contract would be of great value as an experiment, inasmuch as the amount of settling will be fully ascertained.

President Martin now suggested that as the Council was sitting in committee of the whole it would be advisable to go to the Council to get authority to appoint a supervising engineer. In company with Mr. Carothers he therefore went into the Council Chamber, where, an audience being readily obtained, he made the requisition.

The Councilmen agreed at once, Mr. Wilkins remarking that when the money was authorized to be spent for the boulevard it was with the intention of meeting any and all expenses. However, as the charter provided that the board should be given the special power of appointment, it was agreed to pass a resolution at the meeting of the Council on Monday night next, confirming the authority.

The commissioners then returned to their own quarters, where a special meeting was called and Secretary Dam was instructed to advertise at once for bids for the construction of section 1 of the stone embankment. [The advertisement will be found in another column.] It calls for the work to be commenced within twenty days after the signing of the contract, to be carried on continuously and to be completed within six months.

After the board adjourned President Martin was asked by a TRIBUNE man who would get the appointment of supervising engineer. He replied that Mr. Allardt is the engineer wanted, but the appointment will not be made until after Monday next.
